CONCEPT NOTES

Projectors or Kamrupa is the legacy of Ancient India and the place where mythological warriors were born and their glorious deeds were written in the various Hindu mythological texts. The name Kamrupa was first mentioned in the Atharvavedic Puran description of Samudra Manthan. Han Yung, the Chinese Traveller also mentioned about this with his travels in his travel account. The District of Kamrup was created in 1974 C.E. under the colonial rule and its territorial boundary remained unchanged till 1985 C.E. The area Kamrup District was comprised of present Districts of Bongaigaon, Jorhat, Kamrup (District), Karimganj, Barpeta and Dibrugarh. Historically, the Kamrup District was the hub of anti-colonial movement in Assam. The tale of the Kamrup District in India's freedom struggle started in the 19th century itself with the rising peasant uprisings in Sakhari, Kamrup and the neighboring areas against the rule of revenue by the colonial Government. A large number of freedom fighters of the District came out to fight against this exploiter and oppressor. Legendary freedom fighters of the District like Tapan Ram Phukan, Nabin Chandra Bardoloi, Mahendra Mohan Chowdhury, Bishwanath Medhi, Ananta Prasad Kachowdhury, Chandraprasanna Sarma, Ananta Prasad Das, Subhaschandra Sena etc. are few to be mentioned here who organized and led the freedom movement in Assam. The above referred are only a few names who came into the limelight, but in ground level a large number of heroes contributed immensely towards this movement and a numerous sacrificed their lives. In 1925 the Indian National Congress Session was held at Pledu in Guwahati which was also a landmark in the freedom struggle of Assam. A large number of Assamese women came out to join in the anti-British movement under the leadership of Chandraprasanna Sarma, Ananta Prasad Das etc. Educational institutions like Cotton College turned into the hub of students' activities. To discourage and stop student participation in the Civil Disobedience Movement, the then Director of Public Instruction of Assam J.R. Cunningham issued the Cunningham Circular in 1930. As a result thousands of students throughout the state left their educational institutions and consequently many Swadeshi schools were established for those students. The Kamrup Academy of Guwahati was the first such Swadeshi School in North-East India. Religious institutions like Chankaria Dera of Kamrup played significant role in the organization of peasants in the non-violent campaign against the high rate of revenue imposed by the colonial rule.

Hence, an sincere effort is being directed through this proposed seminar to explore the untold stories of Undivided Kamrup district and to acknowledge their contributions towards freedom struggle of India. It is an earnest attempt to explore the historical contribution made by the administrative and religious institutions, the role of middle class, peasants, priests, and the literature of the mentioned District towards the freedom movement of India.

SUB-THEMES:

1. Role and Contribution of Freedom Fighters of Undivided Kamrup District.
2. Trend and Phenomena of Freedom Struggle in Undivided Kamrup District.
3. Participation and effect of Swadeshi Movement, Non-Cooperation Movement, Civil Disobedience Movement and Quit India Movement in undivided Kamrup District.
4. Role of Women in the Freedom struggle of undivided Kamrup District.

5. Anti-British Uprising in undivided Kamrup District.
6. Role of Educational and Religious Institution of undivided Kamrup District in the Freedom Struggle.
7. Role of Students, Middle Class and Media of undivided Kamrup District in the Freedom Movement.
8. Socio-Political and Geographical Importance of undivided Kamrup District during Colonial Rule.
9. Literature and Freedom Movement of undivided Kamrup District.
10. Any other Topic related to the main theme of the seminar.

OBJECTIVES OF THE SEMINAR

To bring Academicians and Researchers to rewrite the history of untold stories of undivided Kamrup District in India's Freedom Struggle. It also aims to explore the historical contributions made by educational and religious institutions, the role of middle class, peasants, priests and literature of the mentioned district towards the freedom struggle of India.
